

Dear fellow enthusiast for travel and discoverer

Nowadays, many people all over the world wish and are able to share their passion for their places of living or holiday's destinations. Your personal commitment, regular and constant efforts of your writings through blog, network, magazine, e-letter... allow many internet users to benefit and to seed the content.

With Guest for Home, the world is up to be a global village

Guest for Home has decided now to be accessible free of charge for the provided services, providing homeowners and travelers with appropriate means to directly exchange about the future stay.

Guest For Home wishes to federate closely a professional community, our “Consuls” in a large number of countries will enable tourists and travelers to make the most of their stay, thanks to their deep knowledge of the visited area.

Crowdfunding campaign

We are currently preparing the 1st campaign to raise the funds required to further develop the website and online platform to make the search easier for finding a stay, the information sharing as well as highlights and land marks of the places encountered during the travel. The crowdfunding campaign will be launched mid-november on www.indiegogo.com.

Guest For Home community partnership

Thanks to the media campaign, which is assisting the launching of the crowdfunding campaign, and the further improving of the website and platform, we expect many registrations of members. It is up to you to join the Guest For Home Global community so that our future members will also participate to your community and to your followers.

We project to create a global map on which all the community partnerships with geographical criteria and specific filters. This tool must allow our members in experiencing your provision of service and accelerate your interaction much faster than other standard search or social networks. Clearly, our objective is to create a snowball effect, benefiting all! Therefore, your list of subscribers, members, likes... will grow faster.

Join us for free on Guest For Home!

Becoming a Guest For Home community partner is free, and a mutual beneficial cooperation in sharing content and creating a global platform that will become one of the most efficient enriched by our members, on a rolling basis, enabling them to find the desired place and to share their experience...

Rewards will be offered to any contributors to the Guest For Home's crowdfunding campaign and you, as part of the partnership, will share them with your relations. These rewards will be, for example, overnight stays in extra, price discounts for tourist activities, annual free access to premium services of Guest For Home... And any other rewards you could imagine in relation with your area and supported by Guest For Home.

By co-operating with Guest For Home, all of us will win!

We will spread information and tips regarding the crowdfunding campaign on our Facebook page, and we invite you to join us as owners, and/or professional partners of the tourism.
